My major is Business Management; I want to minor in construction management but every time I ask someone if we offer that at UNR they all say they don't know. I plan to hopefully take over my father business in San Diego. He owns a construction company and builds custom homes. So, I want to join the trades after college or maybe a big construction company and run some jobs.

Honestly, I am not great with computers at all, I know the basics and what I was taught by your class IS 101 but that was a long time ago and I don't really remember and haven't used any of those programs since. I use an Xbox and my HP computer, and phone but that's pretty much it, I am more of a hands type of guy, not big into tech. I know like the computers in cars (ECU, FICM, tuning, ETC) more diesel than gas cars.

Well, my name is Jacob Morgan, I am from San Diego California, born and raised. I chose the university of Nevada Reno because of snowboarding and their business program. I came out here all by myself and made friends along the way and I hope to have some lifelong friends. Some of my favorite hobbies are snowboarding, surfing, skateboarding, and pretty much every board sport. Through middle school and high school, I competed in surfing all the way into my sophomore year. I've gotten first place a couple times in boys shortboarding, then my love switched to football. I became a starter in my sophomore year and became first team all-league at defensive end. I was on the way to beat a high school record of sacks then tore my ACL and my lateral meniscus my junior year. My senior year I was pushed back to line backer and still lead the team in sacks and tackles and first team all-league for defensive then played in an all-star bowl game, but my team got whooped. I do still surf a lot whenever I get the chance to go home and went on a crazy trip to Panama this summer with 8 of my best friends and we stayed in a little bungalow in the deep jungles on an island called Red Frog. It was full of the poison red dart frog hence the name. my dreams are to surf Indonesia, Mentawai's, Australia, and to just become the best snowboarder I can while I live in somewhat of a mountain town. Another big dream of mine is successfully taking over my dad's business and making him proud. I am a big fan of Reggae music like Protoje, Stick Figure, Slightly Stoopid, Rebolution and many others. I love to travel. I am forever grateful for my family, friends, girlfriend, and the life that GOD has given me.
